

How to Change Priority of Network Cards

Introduction

In some work environments you may want to specify which network card is being used.

This is especially useful with virtual technology where you can further specify the network card being used by the virtual machine.

Reference

This is an abridged version of How To Geek - How to Change the Priority of Wired/Wireless Network Cards in Windows.